

Indoor and Outdoor Dream Teams

Dream Teams complete needed projects inside child care and early childhood program sites or support outdoor learning through projects that improve health. Dream Teams may paint an early childhood program's hallways, install tree stumps to make an outdoor story circle, build a teepee for green beans to grow on, or install raised beds for planting.

How this Project Helps

These projects help improve the care and education settings for children. In some cases they transform playgrounds into outdoor learning environments by making them more interactive with grass mazes, pathways, and edible gardens. Dream Team projects at child care sites often support the work of Farm to Child Care and Preventing Obesity by Design, two programs that seek to reduce childhood obesity. Improving health enhances a child's readiness for Kindergarten.

Dream Team Materials

Once the scope of the project is determined, WCSS can assist with identifying materials needed. For outside projects, program experts provide planning and guidance to ensure enhancements are within regulations. For indoor Dream Team work, child care directors submit projects that are reviewed by our staff. Many teams choose to leave a piece of equipment such as a wheelbarrow, signed by volunteers, as a gift to the center to support future work.

Size of Volunteer Team

Small (10 or fewer)

Large (11 + or more)

Minimum Number of Supplies

The amount of needed supplies is defined by the scope of work. Most Dream Teams bring their own tools and provide plants and materials needed for the project. Some centers have funding to purchase materials, but most do not. We target projects to centers that serve low-income families that pay for care using child care subsidy vouchers. These centers are reimbursed for care at below-market rate, and therefore benefit greatly from these community projects.

Volunteer Team's Responsibilities
